2024 SA Wine & Cellar Classifications

- South Africa's top wines and cellars over the past 10 years – the best track records from 2014 to 2023 (inclusive)
- According to the top panels – the experts' ranking of South African wines as reviewed around the world

The SA Wine & Cellar Classifications, updated annually since 2004, are based on the top ratings by the most respected panels locally and internationally when it comes to assessing wine quality and interest value in a 'blind tasting' environment – the identities of the wines and their producers withheld to avoid positive or negative bias in terms of brand status, the origin of the grapes and the location of the cellars.

Ratings by individual critics do not have a bearing on the Classifications – nor do the results of certain questionable wine competitions. Depending on the number of vintages for which the wines receive top accolades and the nature of the accolades, the best track records are highlighted in showcasing which of South Africa's wines are most highly fancied year in and year out.

Compilation of the SA Wine & Cellar Classifications by Mike Froud, Top Wine SA:

How the SA Wine & Cellar Classifications are determined:

ELIGIBILITY FOR CLASSIFICATION

- For a wine to qualify for the South African Wine Classification on the basis of its track record requires at least three vintages to be highly rated by a panel of wine experts locally or internationally (as listed below/overleaf) within a 10-year span of vintages during the 10-year period under review – including the latest vintage to be highly rated, which must have been highly rated within the past five years.

CLASSIFICATION SCORING SYSTEM

- Each highly rated vintage is given a score according to how high the rating was (see table below/overleaf). If a vintage received more than one top rating, then only the highest to count in terms of this score.
- In the case of a highly rated vintage with good reviews by more than one panel, such a vintage is given 1 to 3 extra points for a second top rating (by a different panel) according to how high the second rating was, and an extra point for each additional top rating (by a different panel) thereafter.

Best of the Best

The most highly rated wines in the South African Wine Classification – the best track records over the past 10 years.

Hall of Fame

The South African wine producers applauded for the Best of the Best in terms of the latest SA Wine Classification.
